

Riverside Community Church

November is here and as we all prepare ourselves for the holiday season to come, we are afforded a unique opportunity. It's not uncommon to start planning and talking at this point about what Christmas will be like this year. How will we celebrate it? Whose house is dinner going to be at? How early can we start playing Christmas music? Christmas is a fantastic time of year and all those questions (and many more) help us to work hard at having the type of Christmas we envision.

And that is the unique opportunity we have. We have the opportunity to stop and consider the most important of questions: What does Christmas look like when it's lived out God's way, with His values? This coming month, we are going to continue studying the book of Matthew; talking about some more of the teachings of Jesus that confronted the pattern of life in ancient Israel and continues to confront the patterns of life around us today. It is going to be a powerful opportunity to reframe the coming days, weeks, months and years, and experience what it means to set our sight on Him who loves us more than anyone else ever could. So, see you on Sunday as we dig deep to see what God has for us in the days to come.

~ Pastor Derrick
